FAMOUS LETTERS TO TWEEDMOUTH

THE KAISER'S COMMUNICATIONS
ARE MADE PUBLIC

HIS LORDSHIP WON'T TALK

But Information That Munich Publication Is General Has Been Obtained

LONDON, April 2.—Lord Tweed-
mouth today refuses to confirm or deny the authenticity of the letters
printed in a Munich newspaper yesterday, purporting to be the correspondence between the kaiser and
himself concerning the British navy.
From persons who saw the letters,
however, assurance comes that they are genuine. It is suspected that the kaiser wearied of the controversy
over the matter and himself decided
that publication should be made.

Letter Is Harmless.

As reproduced, the emperor's letter accuses Sir John Fisher of trying to stir up distrust, apparently, between the two nations, though there is no attempt in it to influence Great Britain's naval policy. It was prompted by a published letter of Lord Escher, who is a member of the entourage of King Edward, in which
he said:

"There is not a man in Germany,
from the emperor downward, who
would not welcome the fall of Sir John Fisher."

Sir John Fisher is senior naval
lord of the British admiralty.

In referring to this statement, according to the letter as published, the
emperor says:

"Instead of allaying distrust, like
me and you, he rekindles it, and that at the expense of gentlemen of the Maritime League, which had already shown no lack of distrust. You know yourself, my dear lord, that I am the last person to take delight in
the difficulties of the sea, lord, and you know how I think about German machinations against Tirpitz."

ARSON FOR SPITE MAY PROVE MURDER

NEW YORK, April 2.—The police
and fire marshals are investigating the cause of a fire in a tenement on Hester street, that caused the death
of three and injury of fifteen, on
the theory that the fire was incendiary. It is believed the fire was set for revenge, and that persons residing in the neighborhood are responsible. The dead are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Weinstein and their year-old baby. Others were seriously burned.

APRIL FOOL

Bentley was obstreperous in the wholesale district yesterday. There was something in the air, and Bentley expanded deeply. No matter what was wrong—and lots goes wrong on April 1st—it was Bentley.

"What Bentley?" outsiders regaled
by the stories in the district ask-
ed. "A. A." was always the answer, and "A. A." drew responses which we suppress in respect to the postal laws.

Finally it climaxed in an indignation meeting in the office of Bryant & Sisson.

Along in the afternoon Bentley's
stenographer told him a telephone
message had revealed the information he was wanted at Mike Kratchwill's candy factory in a hurry. This,
to a "prune" broker, meant a car-
load of something at a fat commission, and Bentley crushed his hat on wrong end to and hustled out.

"Go to Bentley's, quick!" Kratch-
will had heard this over the "phone,
and he was hurrying to Bentley's.
"Nice bargain in a car of sugar, maybe," he was congratulating himself.
They met.

"Just hurryin' over," said Mr.
Bentley affably. "What y' want?"
"Nothin'! What you send for me
for?" returned Mike expectantly.
"Didn't send for you."
"Didn't send for you."

"Now see here, Bentley, I've been a good fellow, but don't—"
"Don't you good fellow me, Mike,
I'm always willing to come half way,
but—"

"Damn your impudence, I've a notion—"
"Don't spoil it, young feller, I used
to work in a foundry, an'—"

"Hey, there!"
The door of Bryant & Sisson's office had opened to emit the towering form of a young man upon whose face was written the delight of a long sought satisfaction. Sisson threw back his head, inflated his massive chest, and rent the air with a long cry that told the story of his
wicked exultation:

"April Fool!"

Sisson—then: "What's the stage
of water now?" asked Mike.

But all that was to be seen of Bentley was the fluttering tips of a pair of saucy coat tails that an instant later were cut off by the instantly bang of a peremptory door.

THOMAS JEFFERSON WAS BORN 165 YEARS AGO TODAY

THOMAS JEFFERSON AND HIS HOME AT MONTICELLO

Today marks the one hundred and
sixty-fifth anniversary of the birth
of that great man, Thomas Jefferson, third president of the United States. He was born at Shadwell,
Virginia, April 2, 1743.

"Here lies buried Thomas Jefferson, author of the declaration of independence, of the statute of Virginia
for religious freedom and father of the university of Virginia."

Such is the epitaph on Jefferson's tombstone. This tribute to one of America's greatest men is so simply worded that its force is scarcely grasped. A man would indeed be great who had accomplished any one of the three things mentioned in the above epitaph, and yet these are only incidents in the career of a man who had so much to do with the basic principles of the new combination of states. Thomas Jefferson is hailed as the great Democrat. He was the founder of the democratic party.

Among the important events of his administration were the purchase of Louisiana, exploitation of the continent from the Mississippi river to the Pacific ocean and difficulties
with France and Great Britain on account of their violation of the rights of neutrals. Mr. Jefferson was the founder of the university of Virginia
in 1819 at Charlottesville, Va., and was its rector until his death, which occurred on the same day, at almost
the same hour, as that of John Adams, who was his associate in drafting the declaration of independence
and signing it just 50 years before.

CLASH MAY COME IN HAYTI AT ONCE

ALLEGED FURTHER MURDERS
BRING FRENCH CRISIS

THE U. S. MARINES ARE READY

Legations Guarded and Anti-Foreign Attack Is Anticipated by Diplomats

PORT AU PRINCE, April 2.—The Haytian government issued a formal
denial today of the charge that political executions are continuing despite the assurances given the foreign powers that they have stopped.

However this statement fails to allay alarm, and is not believed in diplomatic circles, and the supposedly misleading character is taken as final proof that the government is not to be trusted. Refugees at the French legation have furnished Minister Carteron with what is considered convincing evidence that suspected anti-government plotters were shot yesterday. Arsene Chevry, a poet, is supposed to be one of the dead. Carteron has armed the legation in anticipation of an attack, owing to a suspicion that General Coicou is stirring up the people to attack the whites. The marines are held in readiness for immediate landing from the United States cruiser Des Moines and German cruiser Bre-
men. Everyone expects a clash when Manager Reybold presents, through German Minister Von Selimier, certain financial claims against the Haytian government. The Herman
company, a German firm, demands
the principal and six per cent interest since 1900, on three hundred
of Haytian bonds, also the price with interest for the Port au Prince street railway.

SHOOT HIS WIFE; PHONES FRIENDS AND KILLS HIMSELF

NEW LONDON, Conn., April 2.— William F. M. Rogers, a prominent attorney and former prosecutor, telephoned a doctor and lawyer to come to his residence immediately. Both responded in a few minutes and found Rogers and his wife dead in
bed. It is supposed he shot his wife,
telephoned his friends and then killed himself.

FOUR HURT IN "Q" WRECK

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—Four people were injured at 9 o'clock today
morning in a collision of a passenger and freight on the Burlington
railroad at Spanish lake, 16 miles from here. The injured were brought to hospitals here.

THE LA CROSSE BAR FOR JOHN BARNES

ALL BUT HALF DOZEN LAWYERS
ARE COMMITTED

POLITICS NOT IN THE MOVE

Leading Lawyers of Both Republican
and Democratic Parties Identified With Plan

A movement of the local bar association, "without regard to party
affiliations," to aid the election of John Barnes as justice of the supreme court, was pushed through here today, with the result that all but five
or six lawyers signed the petition,
and of these half dozen, it is said,
some failed to sign because of absence from the city, or were secret
sympathizers of Barnes who for personal reasons did not want to be publicly associated with the movement.

The preamble to the petition circulated is as follows:

Non-Partisan Move

To the Voters of La Crosse County:

The undersigned, without regard
to political affiliations, desire to call
the attention of the voters of La Crosse county to the candidacy of John Barnes, of Rhinelander, for justice of the supreme court to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late Justice Cassady, and to urge his election on next Tuesday.

John Barnes is an able lawyer in
the prime of life, being some fourteen years younger than his youngest opponent, and is in the active practice of his profession. He is independent and fearless, and his integrity is beyond question. He has never sought political favor and has cat-
tered to no interest, party or faction.
He is free from entangling alliances,
and under the control of no one. He comes from the northern part of the state, a district not almost wholly unrepresented on the supreme
bench, all of the present justices,
but one, being from the southeastern
corner of the state.

The foregoing are the qualifications demanded at this time in a justice of the supreme court and we believe John Barnes possesses them in an eminent degree.

The Signers.

EVELYN THAW AND MAN PUT OUT OF A N. Y. RESTAURANT

NEW YORK, April 2.—Evelyn Thaw and E. R. Thomas are said to have been asked to leave the Knickerbocker hotel dining room here last night. They deny the story today,
and say a mistake has been made,
blaming "doubles."

Evelyn is preparing to sail for Europe according to an announcement made at Hotel Rince George, where she has been living since she gave up
the Park Avenue home. It is said
she will probably stay until her suit
for annulment of her marriage with Harry has been disposed of. The preliminary hearing will take place next week.

ANTI-BETTING IS GAINING STRENGTH

ALBANY, N. Y., April 2.—By a vote of 27 to 19 the senate today
adopted the Hart amendment to the Percy-Gray law which was advanced
last night after 12 hours' debate.
It is substituted for the Agnew bill,
with which it is identical. If finally passed it will end race track gambling in the state.

LILLEY CASE DIGRESSES.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The Lil-
ley investigating committee branched off from the affairs of the Electric Boat company today, and called Clarence L. Berger, consulting engineer and former president of the subsurface boat company, which he said, appeared before the senate naval affairs committee and submitted
plans to the navy department, but didn't get a contract. He said the attitude of the committee was fair
and impartial to all the companies.

Hobson Wasn't Asked.

Berger said Littlefield (Maine)
introduced a bill looking to the purchase of the Berger boats, but he did not remember at whose suggestion
this was done. Olmstead read the records of the house naval committee
showing that Hobson had incorporated in the pending naval bill a provision for money that would naturally go to the Berger company. Berger said his company didn't give Hobson this paragraph.

WIFE OF AMERICAN AMBASSADOR ALONE HAS EAR OF THE KAISER

MRS. CHARLEMAGNE TOWER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—
Mrs. Charlemagne Tower, wife of the American ambassador to Germany,
is the one American woman who can gain the ear of the kaiser. Amba-
sador Tower and his wife are great favorites in German society. They have devoted much time and money
to the gaining of this end and today
Mrs. Tower not only leads the social diplomatic life in the German capital,
but is in close touch with the emperor himself. It is she who was able to gain his ear in the trouble
which involved the succession of David Jayne Hill to the ambassadorship
of Germany. Rumor has it that Ambassador Tower and his wife are not wholly in sympathy with the resignation so readily accepted by President Roosevelt, but would prefer to remain at the German capital for some time. In fact, it is thought that the letter to President Roosevelt was not intended as a definite resignation, but rather in the hopes that the president would urge them to remain.

Upon the acceptance of the resignation and the appointment of David Jayne Hill, Mrs. Tower, it is thought,
urged the kaiser to not accept Mr.
Hill, hoping that Ambassador Tower
would then be requested to remain
at his post. Mrs. Tower is a charming lady and possesses as much tact
in handling social problems as does
her husband in handling national affairs.

ST. LOUIS GIRL VICTIM OF A
MOCK MARRIAGE

GREEN BAY MAN'S GRAFF

Weds Through Matrimonial Bureau
and Skips Out With Girl's Trunk and $1,500

CHICAGO, April 2.—Elizabeth Ketzel, of St. Louis, declares she is a victim of a matrimonial agency.
She reported that Otto Kramer, the
man whom she thought she married,
with whom she lived at the Majestic
hotel for several days, left her taking her trunk and $1,500 in cash.
Miss Ketzel notified a friend in St.
Louis, who notified the police there,
and they told the authorities here.
Today she gave the local police a description of the man, who she said
comes from Green Bay, Wis. She started correspondence with him
through a marriage bureau, and came to Chicago to marry him. The police believe she is the victim of a
mock marriage.

ENDS LIFE WHEN SUICIDE CLAUSE IS A YEAR OLD

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—One day after her life insurance policy had been
in effect a year, Marie Lahmann, aged 26 years, killed herself. She leaves an invalid sister, Maggie, age 19, one thousand dollars.

A clause in the policy made it void
if the insured committed suicide
within a year. For several years
Marie had been caring for her sister

MOTHER'S SHEARS PENETRATE EYE

BOY HERO MEETS WITH DIS-TRESSING ACCIDENT

PHYSICIANS MAY SAVE SIGHT

Child Who Saved His Sister from Being Burned and Was Refused
Carnegie Medal in Mishap

While playing in the room where
his mother was cutting with a pair
of shears yesterday afternoon, Em-met Schrank, the 5-year-old son of
Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Schrank, 921
Vine street, lunged forward into the lap of his mother and the point of the shears was accidentally thrust in-
to one of the little fellow's eyes, cutting a wide gash in the eye ball. Dr.
Mulford was called and had the lad
removed to the St. Francis hospital,
where an operation was performed
last evening.

The child is suffering great pain
and little short of a miracle will save the sight of the injured eye.
Today the little boy was resting easier, but the attending physicians cannot determine at present how serious the injury will prove to be.

Unless gangrene sets in, it is hoped to save the eye ball and slight
hopes are entertained for the recovery of the child's sight.

The little lad will be remembered
as the hero who some time ago was
a candidate for a Carnegie medal,
but the officials decided that the lad was then too young and did not realize his danger when he rushed
into a burning room to save his sister.

JOHN M. VRCHOTA DIES OF TYPHOID

FORMER CITY CLERK SUCCEUMS
AFTER SUFFERING

ONCE PROMINENT IN POLITICS

Was Secretary of the Elks' Lodge
and One of the Best Known
Residents of the City

After a fight for six weeks against great odds, John M. Vrchota, 906
South Ninth street, died yesterday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock of typhoid fever. About six weeks ago Mr.
Vrchota was taken ill with a complication which finally turned into typhoid fever. He has been confined to his home for the past month and
during the past week his condition,
while not considered dangerous was
such it was thought best by attending physicians to remove him to the hospital, and last Monday he was taken to the La Crosse hospital. He continued to decline on his arrival at the hospital and sank rapidly until
death relieved his sufferings yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Vrchota was born in Bohemia,
45 years ago, and came to America
with his parents in 1867, directly to La Crosse, where Mr. Vrchota has since made his home.

Soon after coming to La Crosse he learned the tailoring business, having graduated from the Wallace Business college of this city. He followed his trade until 1889, when he entered politics. He was clerk of the board of public works for four years
and was elected city clerk in 1895
and re-elected in 1897. Since his re-irement from the city clerk's office
he has been employed a greater part of the time at the Whitbread Fuel company.

Surviving Mr. Vrchota are his widow and seven children, all of them living at home. He also leaves
four brothers and five sisters as follows: Joseph J. James, and Frank of this city, and Charles of Los Angeles, Cal.; Mrs. Albert Spika of Grand Junction, Colo.; Mrs. Edward Sklenar of St. Paul, Mrs. Ida Tyler
of St. Paul, Miss Lillian Vrchota of La Crosse, and Mrs. Ralph Bedell of Nyack, N. Y.

At the annual election of the La Crosse lodge of Elks in 1907, Mr.
Vrchota was elected secretary and was again elected last month. He was also a member of the Modern Woodmen and the Knights of Pythias. The funeral services will be in charge of the John P. Linton lodge
No. 27, Knights of Pythias, but no definite arrangements have been made awaiting word from absent relatives.

Weather and Water

Coldest at La Crosse, 18; warmest,
38; wind, 12 miles; precipitation, .02
inch.

Extremes: Bismark, 0; New Orleans, 84.

River forecast: The river will remain about stationary during the next 36 hours.

Stage of water: 4.7, stationary.
At New Orleans the flood stage of water is 16 feet and the river there today registers 17.9 feet. At Memphis it is at flood stage, 32 feet.

The river fell .5 at St. Paul since yesterday.

Weather forecasts today:
Wisconsin—Fair tonight and Friday, rising temperature Friday.

Minnesota—Fair tonight and probably Friday, rising temperature.

Iowa—Fair tonight and probably Friday, rising temperature.

Weather Conditions

The weather is generally fair this morning in all districts, except in the lake region where light snow continues. The low shown in the Mississippi valley on yesterday's chart has moved rapidly eastward to the lower St. Lawrence valley causing high winds with rain or snow from the upper Mississippi valley to the New England states. The northwestern
high overlies the entire country from
the Mississippi valley to the north Pacific coast.

NAMES TROPHY AFTER WAGER

NEW YORK, April 2.—"I consider Hans Wagner the greatest baseball player yet produced in the professional leagues and I wish to perpetuate his name in the form of a cup," says Harry O. Pulliam, president of the National League, in presenting a trophy to be competed for by the Interborough Baseball League, a local organization.

President Pulliam gives the trophy, known as the "Hans Wagner Cup," to be won three seasons in succession before it becomes the property of any individual team.

The Comfort of Automobiling

Think of riding fifty miles to make a call and coming back without the slightest fatigue. Your far-away friends practically become your next door neighbors—and you can give them the pleasure of frequent rides—with the aid of a Rambler. You can spend your vacation in a Rambler and come back to work again with renewed health and a keener zest for business.

Rambler Automobiles

I want to give you the names and addresses of Rambler owners who have driven their cars from 15,000 to 50,000 miles—and can tell you how little it costs to run a Rambler.
I want to show you why any man or woman can drive a Rambler—why the Rambler unit power plant increases power, reduces wear, and makes it the easiest car to care for.
I want to show you the tilting body on Model 31, and to demonstrate what it means to have every working part of your car easily accessible. May 1?

FIRST BALL GAME AT CALEDONIA

CALEDONIA, Minn., April 2.—(Special.)—The baseball season opened here Sunday with a game between the Young Champs and the Cubs. The Champs were true to their name and won by a score of 10 to 7. The Cubs have claimed the juvenile championship of Caledonia and were sure of victory and are greatly disappointed over their defeat, especially the pitcher who thought he was invincible.

Tax Commissioner O. M. Hall was here Tuesday to attend a meeting of county assessors. The assessors from nearly every precinct were present. Mr. Hall gave them an interesting address upon their duties in the assessment of property, after which there was a discussion of the various difficulties with which an assessor meets in the discharge of his duties.

REFEREE FIGHT FOR MATCH FRIDAY

CHICAGO, April 2.—Just who will constitute the third party in the Dexter Park arena Friday night, when Gotch and Hackenschmidt clash for the world's wrestling title, will remain a secret until some time today. This tip was given out by W. W. Wittig, promoter of the bout. Representatives of both wrestlers, together with the promoters, put in a busy time trying to settle the question, and late last night it was agreed to wait until today for the final vote.

SPORTING BRIEFS.

The Brewers again defeated the Bartlesville pine Tuesday, winning by a score of 16 to 7.

The White Sox were again beat out of a game by the weather man Tuesday at Terre Haute.

The Cuba, well, they picked a lemon from the hands of the Toledo team, losing by the score of 6 to 5.

The White Sox seconds also got it again going down to defeat before the fast Lincoln aggregation to the score of 2 to 1.

The Senators took an easy victory from the Dallas, Texas, team Tuesday, winning by a score of 3 to 1.

Northwestern University won their first game of the season Tuesday by defeating the Law team of the same school.

A mass meeting was held yesterday morning at the Chicago University and a great celebration was held in honor of the winning of the basketball championship.

Spring football practice has been started at Yale, the work being given under the direction of Captain Biglow.

George Shrosbee of Chicago lasted two minutes in the go with Eddie McGoorty of Oshkosh at the latter place Tuesday evening.

The St. Louis Cardinals, with Eddie Konetchy, are making about the best showing in the major league on their training trip. They have won practically all their games played so far.

BLOODY DRAW IS FOUGHT IN FRISCO

ABE ATTELL WINDS UP IN A WHIRLWIND FINISH

AN EQUAL FOR THE BATTLER

Nelson Tries Hard for a Knockout in the Fourteenth, but Fails to Reach Vital Spot

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 2.—With a disadvantage of at least eight pounds against him, Abe Attell fought Battling Nelson last night to a fifteen round draw. At the end of the contest both men were fairly deluged with blood. Nelson's face in particular presented the worst sight. Attell had the advantage of all the earlier rounds. He matched his superior skill against the rugged and sturdier man and by outgeneraling his opponent in this manner bade fair to earn a clean cut decision. Nelson however forced the pace throughout, all the while seeking to force Attell into close quarters. Attell, however, was elusive as an eel. He was here, there and everywhere, all the time shooting lightning left and right bolts to Nelson's disfigured face. The turning point came, however, in the ninth round. Nelson, who had been taking his punishment without a whimper, finally succeeded in getting past Attell's heretofore impregnable guard and once having paved the way, he worried his man. He came up fresh and determined in the last round and then followed a battle royal. The men flayed each other with might and main. Attell landing four blows to Nelson's one. Both of the men were dissatisfied with the decision. Nelson was down to 131 and Attell weighed about 124 pounds. Betting on the result favored Nelson, odds of 19 to 7 having been offered at the ringside.

Hebrew Comes Back

In the third Nelson landed two hard lefts on Abe's jaw which made the Hebrew get into his shell. He came back strong toward the finish of the round, however, and fairly showered the Dane's face with a flood of lefts and rights. The crowd was on its feet cheering the Hebrew for his great exhibition. Toward the close of the fourth Abe started working his left again and the round closed with a margin in his favor. Nelson unintentionally hit Abe after the bell rang for which he was roundly hissed. Nelson started after Abe in great style in the fifth, but the Jew cut him into ribbons, and when the round closed his face looked like a raw beefsteak.

The batter forced the fighting all the way but Abe fairly blinded him with a fusillade of lefts and rights to the face. It was Attell's round by a big margin. In the sixth Nelson came back strong and although Attell had the round the Dane was the stronger of the two at the finish. In the seventh Nelson came strong again but tired near the finish and Abe, by a wonderful exhibition of cleverness, peppered the Dane so often that the honors of the round went to him.

Complains to Referee

Bat started his butting tactics in the eighth, Abe complaining to the referee. But worked into close quarters and almost the entire round was fought in close. In the ninth Nelson caught the Jew in the stomach with a vicious left, sending his opponent nearly through the ropes. Nelson kept after his man in relentless fashion but Abe came back strong and by a wonderful exhibition of recuperative powers managed to break even on the round. Nelson, though hit four times for every time he laid his hand on the Hebrew, fought like a tiger all the next round and managed to get an even break. The Hebrew started to do the "hit and dance away" stunt in the twelfth allowing Bat to waste his strength hitting nothing. Nelson started after his man like a panther and the crowd began to yell "Nelson, Nelson." Bat started the blood flowing from Abe's nose with three hard lefts and then nearly floored his man with left to jaw. It was Nelson's round by a big margin.

Nelson forced Abe to break ground

Fights Tonight.

Young Fitzgerald vs. Young Prox at Kenosha, Wis.

Johnny Gardner vs. Kid Peters at Chicago.

George Ashley vs. Billy Clinton at New Bedford, Me.

Young Johnson vs. Young Greenwood at New Bedford, Me.

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—With Eddie McGoorty, favorite son of Oshkosh, and Jack Dugmull of Chicago in the windup, ring followers of Kenosha, Wis., may look for some strenuous battling tonight. McGoorty's successive victories are beginning to draw public attention to him and fans are wondering whether he really is a coming champion or whether he rushed forward through the medium of easy matches. This should be determined tonight by the result of his match with Dugmull. The Chicago man met Jack Dougherty a few weeks ago and for the first two rounds gave the Irishman a hot battle. In the first round Dugmull sent Dougherty to the canvas with a vicious right-hander, cutting Dougherty's eye. Throughout the remainder of the contest the blood from this wound interfered with the Irishman's sight, but he managed to beat Dugmull in spite of this handicap. Dugmull showed, however, that he has a punch to be feared. If McGoorty can do as well against Dugmull as Dougherty did it will demonstrate that the Oshkosh boy really is of some class.

Young Fitzgerald, Milwaukee, and Young Fitz of Chicago will furnish the semi-windup, and the opener will bring together Johnny Gardner of Milwaukee and Kid Peters of Chicago.

George Ashley and Billy Clinton, rivals for the lightweight championship of Maine, will engage in a ten-round contest at New Bedford, Me., tonight. Young Johnson and Young Greenwood, bantams, will furnish the opener.

After four weeks of silence Sailor Kelly, who scintillated in these parts for a time last fall, rises to remark that he still is in the game and is grabbing off a little coin in New York city. A letter from Kelly yesterday contained the announcement that he will meet Jersey Tommy Murphy at the Brooklyn, N. Y., Athletic club's stag tomorrow night. Joe Koster and Ed Bogus are to appear in the windup.

in the thirteenth and by keeping on top of his man all the way gained a big lead on the round.

Bat fought like a maniac in the fourteenth trying hard for a knockout. He caught Abe in the stomach with a vicious left hook and followed this up by bumping the Hebrew on the frontispiece twice, drawing the blood in streams. He then caught the Hebrew on the jaw sending his head back nearly a foot. Abe was clearly in a bad way and if the Dane had a trifle more strength he would have ended the battle then and there. The men fought with superhuman effort and they were both exhausted at the bell. The round was Nelson's. The closing round witnessed some breakneck work, Nelson doing all the leading with Abe on the defensive. Nelson fought like a madman, but could not reach a vital spot. The crowd was on its feet yelling like mad for a knockout, but the bell rang before either landed the K. O. Referee Smith immediately called the fight a draw.

THE GREAT SAENGERFEST.

While some progress has been made in the effort of the saengerfest committee to raise the funds necessary to the construction of the temporary auditorium, there has been an unfortunate tendency on the part of many people to defer their support—as folk are wont to put off things it would be a pleasure to do but for the existence of some unpleasant element. Unfortunately, this feeling and the attendant hesitancy to prompt action on the part of those who would like to be bounteous in the matter, is a bad thing. It is unjust to such members of the committee as enjoy the full confidence of the public and especially of the German Americans of La Crosse, and it is a detriment to the great song festival to which we are all looking forward with intense anticipation.

The Tribune appreciates the general feeling that had the board of trade made a happier choice in the selection of its representation on the saengerfest committee, much of the difficulty that is being experienced in enlisting the necessary support, might have been eliminated but the rest of the committee should be treated with the consideration due them for the courageous and self sacrificing manner in which they have gone at this big task after the set back it received at the hands of close associates of the board representative, whose approval of that incident may be inferred from his widely noted failure to censure it.

The Tribune appeals to the people of La Crosse not to neglect this important matter, nor deprive it of the support of which its magnitude makes it deserving. The saengerfest is a thing of mighty importance to any city but more than the immediate success of this great enterprise is at stake. The good name and fame of La Crosse rests in the balance, and failure to handle the enterprise in a handsome manner would give the Gateway City a black eye in the cities, villages and towns of a dozen great states. As Mayor Anderson recently said, if the entire fund the city was prevented by injunction from investing in an auditorium had been spent on a suitable building, only to be cast to the winds the day the saengerfest closed, it would have been better than to let these thousands of observing people go forth from La Crosse to proclaim it a "cheap" and unappreciative place in which dwell a narrow and inhospitable people.

The saengerfest cannot be permitted to fail. It MUST succeed, and to the end that its coming may develop into a triumph in which, in years to come, our people shall take pride, and that La Crosse may prosper by the advertising abroad a liberal policy now will give it. The Tribune earnestly urges that the public constitute itself a committee to press with irresistible impulse this splendid undertaking to a magnificent conclusion.

"BILL" TURNER'S RETURN.

"Bill" Turner is coming back to La Crosse. With him, in a "prairie schooner," is coming his old wife, home to die.

Who knows "Bill" Turner and his wife? What sort of a man was he, and what sort of a woman was she? The younger generation don't know, because "Bill" left years ago. However, the story of his life here—his prominence—indicates that he must have been a citizen of standing and character. Perhaps there is in the paths implied in the manner of his return, something that appeals to us with undue force. Perhaps, in the fortunes of commercial war, "Bill" Turner had his chance and lost it, and is not more to be pitied than hundreds of our old people here at home who did not succeed and whose declining years are spent without the comforts which a moderate competence affords. However this may be, for what reason matters not, the home coming of "Bill" Turner and his wife strikes as one of the most pathetic incidents imaginable.

TWO NICE OLD "PELTERS"

As between "Uncle Joe" and Vice President Fairbanks, while liberals will disagree equally with them as to the things they both really stand for, Mr. Fairbanks will gather the more respect, or lose less of it, as a result of the respective state conventions which these men control.

The Illinois convention declared for Cannon, but it also declared for the Taft tariff revision policy, which is for liberal reduction of the schedules. Cannon no more stands for this than for any of the other things the public demands as its right, but he will accept the backing of the state's delegates—minus two—for his hopeless presidential candidacy. Fairbanks, more frank if not less unpopular, secures from his state party organization a tariff revision plank on which he, or Cannon, or any tariff standpatter, could consistently stand. It is the "time honored" declaration that the tariff should be revised "by its friends." Which probably means revised upward, but that matters little, as the "friends" of the tariff as the tariff is known and tolerated today are in the hopeless minority.

So Fairbanks is consistently an open enemy of the masses, while Cannon is secreted in the same boat. And these two anachorisms in the politics of the day seem really to think they have a chance—one by boldly assaulting an impregnable position, the other by the circumvention of the aboriginal warrior. Of what a head "in the cold, gray dawn of the morning after" the convention! Truly, this is a case in which it will not be reckoned that "two heads are better than one."

The suggestion made in a morning paper that the city should provide work for its unemployed is rather incompatible with the talk from the same source about cutting down city improvements. To those interested in the Saengerfest it may inspire the thought that our unemployed might even now be working on a nice auditorium had not the interests represented by this morning's soothsayer interposed an injunction.

Mme. Anna Gould has confessed that she will insult her countrywomen by marrying an outcast of the most profligate Parisian society. Her family can't dictate to her, she says. Too bad it can't. Her splendid sister, Miss Helen Gould, little deserves the penalty of kinship with so fickle a person as the divorced wife of Count Boni de Castellane.

The Lilley investigation may convict no one, but it is worth while. It is giving the public a good idea of how many of their "representatives" deport themselves in the "service" of their country. No fix may be exposed, but the abundance of smoke cannot fail to create a lasting suspicion.

It is not surprising that republican leaders in the house are "ducking" the honor of championing the Aldrich bill. They are not for it, they know it is as unpopular as it is faulty, and there's an election coming on.

"Excuse me for not stopping," exclaimed Little. "I'm in a hurry to get home."
"That's rather unusual," said Large. "What's the trouble?"
"My wife has a cold," explained Little, "and she can't speak above a whisper."—Bohemian.

SPOTLIGHTS

Viola Allen Tonight.
Viola Allen's appearance at the La Crosse theater tonight will have unusual interest by reason of the strength, novelty and originality of her play, "Irene Wycherley," and by the very high character of the company engaged by Liebler & Company to aid her in presenting this commanding success of the London and New York seasons, of which the New York Herald said: "It is a virile play. It is drama with the feminine title. It is modern in the extreme. It holds up the mirror to what certain pessimists are pleased to call 'modern morality,' and it does it with such truthfulness that even the carping realist can find no ground or fault."

The names of Edwin Arden, Paul McAllister, Grant Stewart, John Glendinning, Nellie Thorne, Marie Wainwright and Mrs. Sam Sothorn who comprise a portion of the company, suggest a degree of artistic stage work that is seldom vouchsafed to drama lovers, and it is said the suggestion is more than realized in the actual performance.

Have You Seen "Faust"?

This is the question that you will ask and be asked after this famous play has been seen here Friday, April 3, at the La Crosse theater. Those who are fortunate enough to attend will feel so elated at having seen a really first-class production of this tragedy, with its most elaborate and expensive scenic and electrical effects, that they will take delight in telling their unfortunate brethren, who happened to stay away from the theater, what an exceptional treat they really missed. It is the same story everywhere regarding Frank B. Fanning's version of this ever-popular tragedy. Crowded houses greet them at every town and as a general rule, the standing room only sign is in evidence long before the curtain goes up on the first act.

Walls of Jericho.

The seat sale of the Herbert Keiley and Effie Shannon engagement at the La Crosse theater for Saturday afternoon and evening will go on Friday morning, and judging from the general interest that has been evinced in the revisitation here of these noted co-stars, there is every reason to believe that each of the performances announced to be given of Alfred Sutro's society play, "The Walls of Jericho," will be attended in such a way as to leave no doubt regarding the popularity in La Crosse of Mr. Keiley and Miss Shannon, who in their latest venture are reported to be afforded such opportunities as they have not had since they first jointly appeared in "The Moth and the Flame" some years ago—a play which, by the way, as the means of placing the co-starring arrangements on a solid footing.

"The Walls of Jericho" is said to be a perfect fusillade hurled against the vice and immorality of the London "smart set," and purposes to show to what extent cigarette smoking and bridge whist gambling by society women has arrived.

It's Sometimes Like That

They were rehearsing for the Easter theatricals.

"You mean to say," cried the heroine, clearing her throat, "that the people in the back of the house can't hear us speak our lines?"

The professional trainer held up his hand with a soothing gesture.

"Yes, but don't let that worry you," he said. "They can hear the prompter, so they won't lose touch with the play."

At This Season

Little Willie looked up from his novel.

"Poppa," he said, "what does a man's 'better half' mean?"

"What she says," Mr. Enneque answered sadly.

And with a sigh the little man resumed the verification of his wife's Easter millinery bill, which she had promised would be very large.

IMPORTANT TO ALL WOMEN
READERS OF THIS PAPER

Women are as subject to kidney trouble as men, which fact is often overlooked.

Many woman's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they will cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer a great deal with pain in the back, bearing-down feelings, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

Thousands of irritable, nervous, tired and broken-down women have restored their health and strength by the use of Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy.

Swamp-Root brings new life and activity to the kidneys, the cause of such trouble.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy will do for them. Every reader of this paper, who has not already tried it, may address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., and receive sample bottle free by mail.

FASHION HINTS

By MAY MANTON

5952 Tucked Blouse with Over Waist Effect. $2 to 40 bust.

The over waist that is made with loose sleeves is one of the best liked and is always charmingly attractive. This one is distinctly novel, giving the effect of a separate gümpe, while in reality the entire blouse is made in one. In the illustration taffeta is trimmed with banding and is finished with embroidery with a chemisette of tuck mousseline, but almost all the waisting materials are appropriate and the blouse will be found quite as satisfactory for the gown as it is for separate wear. It will be charming made from crepe de Chine or any similar material. The chemisette can be of tucking or of all-over lace or of anything in contrast that may be liked, so that there is great variety possible.

The blouse is made with a lining in which the sleeves are inserted and itself consists of the yoke portions and over-sleeves, which are cut in one, the fronts, the backs and the chemisette. The various portions are joined and arranged over the lining and the closing is made invisibly at the back.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 3 yards 21 or 24, 2 yards 27 or 14, yards 44 inches wide, with 3/4 yard of tucking and 9/4 yards of insertion.

The pattern 5952 is cut in sizes for a 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inch bust measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents. (If in haste send an additional two cent stamp for letter postage which insures more prompt delivery.)

SWINDLES IN SECURITIES.

(New York Journal of Commerce.)

The worst abuses of speculation are not to be found on the exchanges, but outside of them, and it is carrying these into the stock market for the consumption of their purposes that creates the greatest scandal. In the promotions, exploitations and combinations of reckless financiers, by which securities are created in inflated volume and of fictitious value, is the root of much of the evil. These securities are emptied into the stock market, many of them listed on the exchanges with false pretense and misrepresentation, and the element of gambling enters largely into dealings in them. It takes time to sift them down to their real value, and in the meantime many victims are fleeced by those "on the inside." There is a way of manipulating stocks of an established character, indulged in by men of standing in the financial world, that is scarcely less disreputable. They are "on the inside" of the management and operation of great corporations and have knowledge of conditions and of plans that is kept from others who have an equal right to know. They plan for new issues of securities, or the conversion of old, for an increase or a decrease of dividends that they can control, which they know will have a certain effect upon the market value of stocks, and they use their knowledge and the advantage of their position in the market to make large profits at the expense of others. They use the tactics of the blackleg to filch the money of the unwary.

THE PAUPER
OF PARK
LANE

By William Le Queux

In London, too, his spies were ever at work. Queer, mysterious persons of both sexes often called there in Park Lane, and admitted to private audience of the king of the financial world. Rolfe knew them to be his secret agents, and, further, that his employer's knowledge of his own movements was often wider than he had ever dreamed.

No man in the whole City of London was more shrewd or more cunning than old Sam Statham. It was to the interest of Statham Brothers to be so. Indeed, he had once remarked to his secretary that no secret, however carefully kept, was safe from his agents, and that he could discover without difficulty anything he wanted to know.

Had he discovered the truth regarding the strange disappearance of the doctor and his daughter?

"Why did you lose the train last night, Rolfe?" asked the great financier. "You did not go to Charing Cross," he added.

"I—well, it was too late, and so I didn't attempt to catch the train."

"Why too late?" asked Statham, reprovingly. "In a matter of business—and especially of the magnitude of yours at this moment—one should never be behindhand. Your arrival in Belgrave twenty-four hours late may mean a loss of about twenty thousand to the firm."

"I hope not, sir," Rolfe exclaimed, quickly. "I trust that the business will go through all right. I—I did my best to catch the train."

"Your best! Why you had half a day in which to pack and get to Charing Cross!"

"I quite admit that, but I was prevented."

"By what?" asked Statham, fixing his eyes upon the young man before him.

"By a matter of private business."

"Yes—a woman! You may as well admit it, Rolfe, for I know all about it. You can't deceive me, you know."

The other's face went ghastly white, much to Statham's surprise. The latter saw that he had unconsciously touched a point which had filled his secretary with either shame or fear, and made a mental note of it.

"I don't deny it, sir," he faltered, much confused. He had no idea that his employer had any knowledge of Mand.

"Well—you're an idiot," he said, very plainly. "You'll never get on in the world if you're tied to a woman's shoe strings, depend upon it. Girls are the ruin of young men like you. When a man is free, he's his own master, but as soon as he becomes the slave of a pretty face then he's a lost soul both to himself and to those who employ him. Take the advice of an old man, Rolfe," he added, not unkindly. "Cast off the trammels, unkindly. 'Cast off the trammels, and be free to go hither and thither. When I was your age, I believed in what men call love. Bah! Live as long as I have, and watch human nature as I have watched it, and you'll come to the same conclusion as I have arrived at."

"And what is that?" asked Rolfe, for such conversation was altogether unusual.

"That woman is man's ruin always—that the more beautiful the woman the more complete the ruin," he answered, in the hard, unsympathetic way which he sometimes did when he wished to emphasize a point.

Charlie Rolfe was silent. He was familiar with old Sam's eccentricities, one of which was that he must never be contradicted. His amazing prosperity had induced an overbearing egotism. It was better to make no reply.

At heart the old man was beside himself with delight that his secretary had not left London, but it was his policy never to betray pleasure at anything. He seldom bestowed a single word of praise upon anyone.

He was silent when satisfied, and bitterly sarcastic when not pleased.

"I do not think, sir, that whatever you may have heard concerning the lady in question is to her detriment," he could not refrain from remarking.

"All that I have heard is very favorable, I admit. Understand that I say nothing against the lady. What I object to is the principle of a young man being in love. Why court unhappiness? You'll meet with sufficient of it in the world, I can assure you. Look at me! Should I be what I am if I had saddled myself with a woman and her worries of society, frocks, children, petty jealousies, flirtations, and the thousand and one cares and annoyances which make a man's life a burden to him."

"No. Take my advice, and let those fools who run after trouble go their own way. Sentimentalists may write screeds and poets sonnets, but you'll find, my boy, that the only true friend you'll have in life is your own pocket."

Charlie was not in the humor to be lectured, and more especially upon his passionate devotion to Mand. He was annoyed that Statham should have found it out, and yet, knowing the wide-reaching sources of information possessed by the old millionaire, it was scarcely to be wondered at.

"Of course," he admitted, somewhat impatiently, "there is a good deal of truth in your argument, even though it be a rather blunt one. Yet are not some men happy with the love of a good wife?"

"A few—alas! a very few," Statham replied. "Think of our greatest men. Nearly all of them have had skeletons in their cupboards because of their early infatuations. Of some, their domestic unhappiness is well known. Others have, however, hidden it from the world, preferring to suffer than to humiliate themselves or admit their foolishness," he said, with a calm cynicism. "To-day you think me heartless, without sentiment, because you are inexperienced. Twenty years hence recollect my words, and you will be fully in accord with me, and probably regret deeply not having followed my advice."

With his thin hand he turned over some papers idly, and then, after a moment's pause, his manner changed, and he said, with a good-humored laugh:

"You won't listen to me, I know, Rolfe. So what is the use of expounding my theory?"

"It is very valuable," the young man declared, reverentially. "I know that you are antagonistic towards women. All London is aware of that."

"And they think me eccentric—eh?" he laughed. "Well, I do not want them. Society I have no use for. It is all too shallow, too ephemeral, and too much make-believe. If I wished to go into society to-morrow, it would welcome me. The door of every house in this neighborhood would be opened to me. Why? Because my money is the key by which I can enter."

The most exclusive set would be delighted to come here, eat my dinners, listen to my music, and borrow my money. But who among the whole of that narrow, fast-living little world would care to know me as a poor man? I have known what it is to be poor, Rolfe," he went on; "poorer than yourself. The world knows nothing of my past—of the romance of my life. One day, when I am dead, it may perhaps know. But until then I preserve my secret."

He was leaning back in his padded chair, staring straight before him, just as he had been an hour ago.

"Yes," he continued: "I recollect one cold January night when I passed along the pavement yonder," and he jerked his finger in the direction of the street. "I was penniless, hungry, and chilled to the bone. A man in evening dress was coming from this very house, and I begged from him a few coppers, for I had tasted nothing that day, and, further, my poor mother was dying at home—dying of starvation. The man refused, an cursed me for daring to ask charity. I turned upon him and cursed him in return, and I vowed that if ever I had money I would one day live in his house. He jeered at me and called me a maniac."

"But strangely enough, my words were prophetic. My fortune turned. I prospered. I am today living in the house of the man who cursed me, and that man himself was compelled to beg charity of me! Ah, yes!" he exclaimed, suddenly, rising from his chair with a sigh. "The world little dreams of what my past has been. Only one man knows—the man whom you told me, Rolfe, a little time ago, was in England and alive."

"What—the man Adams?" exclaimed Rolfe, in surprise.

"Yes," replied his employer, in a hoarse, changed voice. "He knows everything."

"Things that would be detrimental to you?" asked the private secretary slowly.

"He is unscrupulous, and would prove certain things that—well, I—I admit to you in strictest confidence, Rolfe—that it would be impossible for me to face."

Charlie stared at him in utter amazement.

"Then you have satisfied yourself that what I told you is correct?"

"I disbelieved you when you told me. But I no longer doubt."

"Because I have seen him today—seen him with my own eyes. He was standing outside, there against the railings, watching the house."

"And did he see you?"

"He saw and recognized me."

Charlie gave vent to a low whistle. He recognized the seriousness of the situation. As private secretary he was in old Statham's confidence to a certain extent, but never before had he made such an admission of fear as that he had just done.

"Where is he now?"

RHEUMATISM

BLOOD FILLED WITH URIC ACID

Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the different muscles, nerves, bones and tissues of the body, and produces the inflammation and swelling of the joints and the sharp, cutting pains characteristic of the disease. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it continually grows weaker and more acid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic, and not only a painful, but a formidable and dangerous disease. Sometimes the heart is attacked, the general health is affected, and the oils and fluids which lubricate the muscles and joints are destroyed by the acid matter which the blood is constantly depositing in them; the muscles shrink and lose their elasticity, the coating of the joints becomes hard and thick, and often the sufferer is left a hopeless cripple. S. S. S. attacks the disease at its head, goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing and removing the uric acid from the circulation and building up the thin, acid blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. changes the sour, acid-burdened blood to a rich, healthy stream which quiets the excited nerves, eases the throbbing, painful muscles and joints, and filters out of the system the irritating matter which is causing the pain and inflammation. Begin the use of S. S. S. now and get the cause out of your blood so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in constant pain and misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY.

We commenced selling ignition batteries for automobiles and launches. Previous to our entering this field, the supply dealers had always charged 35c each for the common grade of batteries. We put the price at 25c for the common types and 35c each for the Columbia Red Top, a special ignition battery. Our action met with the hearty approval of the motoring public and we sold thousands of ignition batteries last season. We are now buying them in tremendous quantities and are enabled to announce another cut in their price. From this date, we will sell the Columbia Red Top Ignition Battery (please do not confuse with the common Columbia Telephone Battery) which we consider unquestionably the best ignition battery made, at 25c each.

Although we buy our batteries in enormous quantities, we buy them on a contract proposition. That is, we place our order for a large quantity, thus insuring us the lowest price and have an arrangement with our jobber to ship the batteries to us one barrel at a time. This arrangement gives us absolutely fresh batteries every few days and the importance of this will be appreciated by any one who has experimented with old shop-worn batteries. If your batteries cost less this year than in the past, please remember that their price was forced down by

CAMPBELL BOARD FIGURES ON ROAD

The town board of the town of Campbell was in session this morning in the offices of the county clerk relatives to the expenditure of the sum of $900 recently appropriated by the county board of supervisors for use in rebuilding roads. The board is to appropriate a like amount for the same purpose.

There were five members on the committee, Chairman William Wolfe, Frank Hardy, John Scogland, Charles Asselin and Peter Lehnen.

There was considerable discussion as to where the expenditures of the money would be of the greatest benefit and the committee was in session most of the morning.

AMUSEMENT ASS'N. WILL MEET TONIGHT

NORTH SIDE MEMBERS TO DECIDE ON CARNIVAL

CONTEST FOR THE OFFICES

Election Will Be Held and Plans Are Laid for a Busy Season on the North Side

At the meeting of the North Side Amusement association to be held in Gibson Brothers' establishment on Rose street this evening it is expected that there will be a spirited contest for the offices. The election of officers for the year will be one of the chief matters taken up and it is expected that there will be several candidates for each office.

The matter of holding a North Side carnival this summer will be taken up; and it is a practically assured fact that it will be decided to hold one. L. E. Lavaque, secretary of the association, is in receipt of a communication from Herbert L. Kline, manager of the Kline Amusement association, in which he states that he has two open dates for La Crosse, both being in August. The first date will be in the fore part of the month and the other the last part.

The Herbert L. Kline shows are considered to be the best in the field as those who saw them last year can testify. He has closed contracts for taking his entire list of shows to the Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin state fairs.

What other business of special importance will be taken up at the meeting tonight is not known, but plans will be made for different things to be taken up by the association during the remainder of the year.

The names of L. E. Lavaque and C. P. Thompson are mentioned for re-election as secretary and president of the association, but whether or not they will accept the offices again is not known.

GOES TO WINONA TO ATTEND MOTHER

Mrs. T. J. Felzer, 1420 George street, left yesterday for Winona where she is attending her mother who is seriously ill. Another daughter has been there for some time but returned home yesterday and Mrs. Felzer went to take her place. Miss Mayme Felzer, the trained nurse of St. Paul, is also in attendance and hopes to restore her grandmother's health.

HORSE OF ARCTIC CO. TAKEN ILL

A valuable horse owned by the Arctic Ice and Fuel company was taken sick with colic yesterday afternoon and fell to the pavement. It was taken to the barn and may not live.

The driver had stopped at the trough on the corner of St. James and Caledonia streets and upon starting on the horse reeled and fell. After some little work the horse was again put on its feet and was driven as far as St. Cloud street when it again fell. This time it was unable to stand and was hauled to the barn in a wagon.

FIGGE RECEIVES HIS SPRING LINE

Charles F. Figge, the Rose street merchant, has received a fine line of domestic and imported dry goods and has them on exhibition at his establishment.

Mr. Figge has already put in part of his spring stock and has a number of large orders under way.

Do't deny yourself delights conferred by Satin skin cream and Satin skin powder.

CHILD FALLS DOWN THE CELLAR STAIRS

The three-year-old child of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Malay of Loomis street met with a serious accident yesterday when she fell down the cellar stairs receiving painful bruises.

It was at first believed that the child was injured internally but she was getting along nicely this afternoon.

A CARD

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents serious results from a cold. Cures la grippe coughs, and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. O. T. Erhart.

MISSIONARY GIVES VIVID LECTURE

Rev. Robert S. Stapleton of Erzurum, Turkey-in-Asia, gave an interesting lecture at the Congregation church last evening, taking his audience through the regions of Kurdistan, where the people are so wild that even soldiers dare not venture among them.

Rev. Stapleton appeared in the costume of the orient and brought the conditions of that country vividly before his audience.

He has spent ten years at Erzurum, which is about four days' ride from Mt. Ararat and he is now touring America and giving lectures on the ways and conditions of that territory. He expects to return after his tour of the states for another ten years of missionary work. While in the city Rev. Stapleton is the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Cowles, 519 South Eleventh street.

COMPANY M IS IN GOOD SHAPE

The annual inspection of Company M, Wisconsin National Guards, was held last evening at the Company B armory, under the direction of General Charles King.

Dressed in the regulation khaki uniforms, the men were put through a strenuous drill by Gen. King.

Special attention was paid to the blanket role, in which the men carry their spare clothing and other accoutrements used on the field. The company went through their drills with rapidity and neatness and although Gen. King did not make any statement he had no severe criticisms to make.

The inspection of Company B will take place tonight.

PREFERS OLD RUN TO BEING OFFICIAL

SHULTS RESIGNS AS TRAVELING ENGINEER ON "Q"

WOULD RATHER RUN ENGINE

Hours of Official Position are Uncertain So Engineer Returns to Old Passenger Run

George Shults of Grand Crossing, who has been employed on the Burlington for years and who is one of the best engineers in the country, a few days ago tendered his resignation as traveling engineer, and is now back on one of his night passenger runs, on trains 47 and 48.

As traveling engineer Mr. Shults was frequently called out at all times of the day and night to inspect engines and to call when a wreck occurred and to have general charge of the engines in use on the road and of the engineers.

At present he has a run and is then through until his next run. For the sake of this rest he resigned from his place as an official on the road.

William C. McCormack, one of the best known engineers in this section of the country, has taken his place on the road as traveling engineer.

NORTH SIDE BRIEFS.

N. Summers, who has been working at West Salem, has returned to his home on the North side.

The work on Avon street of repairing the holes has been completed, and all that remains to be done is rolling.

Charles Butch is ill at his home on Gould street with la grippe.

Eugene Hutchinson is confined to his home with an attack of the grip. The entire family of Peter Loomis is still ill with the smallpox.

There is to be a special meeting of the K. of C. in the Woodmen hall this evening. A number of new members will be initiated at this meeting.

The funeral of Mrs. I. M. Benson was held at 2:30 this afternoon from the Charles Street Lutheran church, Rev. E. O. Vik officiating. Interment was made at the Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. W. H. Tilton, 613 Wall street, left today on an extended visit with relatives and friends in St. Paul.

The Misses Elsie and Nanie Groeschner of Avon street are visiting relatives at Kasson, Minn.

The Ladies' Mission society of the Caledonia Street M. E. church were entertained at a picnic tea Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. F.M. Silloway, 1402 George street.

Mr. and Mrs. P. T. McAdam of Galesville were guests at the home of A. L. Marshall, 2019 Wood street yesterday.

Mr. W. V. Sheets of 1214 Rose street has moved to West La Crosse.

C. C. Nelson of Scranton, N. D., is the guest of relatives and friends on the North side for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Vredenberg of 1904 Wood street have gone to Savanna, where they will spend a few days with relatives and friends.

Mrs. C. Downing of Cedar Falls, Wis., who has been attending her sick brother, W. Downing of Onalaska avenue, has returned to her home.

Mrs. E. Gorman who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. C. Jones of Loomis street for some time, has returned to her home at Springville, Wis.

READ THE TRIBUNE

A Wise Minister—

Rev. J. J. McCann, of St. Mary's Church, Elgin, Ill., says: "Every time you vote for prohibition you vote against the rights of thousands of poor men. Prohibition is all right for the rich; they do not have to go to saloons.

"Their wine cellars are full and they have all they want to drink in the privacy of their homes.

"But when the laboring man wants a glass of beer, the law says he cannot have it. Beer is a true temperance drink."

(Rev. J. J. McCann, to whom the credit of this argument is given, is an authority—his experience is wide, like that of the Roman Pope, Episcopal Bishops Grafton and Webb, Cardinal Gibbons, and other noted ministers. These men have been brought in contact with actual conditions—they understand the habits and desires of men—they speak with head full of reason, not heart full of emotion.

SOOTHING SYRUP KILLS THE TWINS

BABES OF THREE MONTHS PERISH IN THE NIGHT

MOTHER FINDS ONE A CORPSE

Calls Doctor but Other Twin Expires Before His Arrival—To Investigate the Case

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 2.—The twin babies of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ackernicht, 421 West Central avenue, died early today of opiate poisoning, superinduced by the use of a well known brand of soothing syrup.

The babies, a boy and a girl, had been given the soothing syrup to quiet them and given an overdose. Coroner Miller was called and is making an investigation.

The children, only three months old, were normal healthy children, and save for the usual colics and other afflictions of infants, had never been ill a day. The mother had been in the habit of giving the babies the soothing syrup to quiet their restlessness at night, and last night when the crying and restlessness of one of them awoke her, she arose and gave each of them some of the syrup, giving it to the quiet one she says, to assure its remaining quiet. She had no idea what time that was.

About 5 o'clock this morning she woke up, and thinking the children had been unusually still since she had given them the soothing syrup, listened for their breathing. They seemed to be breathing normally and she went to sleep. Awakening again at 6 o'clock she went over to the babies and found one of them dead.

Dr. F. H. Odendahl was hastily summoned, as the parents feared for the other child.

He hurried to the home as quickly as he could in his auto, but when he arrived the other child had succumbed.

Neither child had been dead long as the bodies of both were warm.

Examining the bodies, Dr. Odendahl saw by the contracted pupils of the eyes that they had been suffering from a narcotic and asked the parents what they had given the children. He was handed the bottle of soothing syrup and the case explained to him. The bottle was only about a quarter full, and the parents explained they had been in the habit of giving the children the syrup to keep them quiet at night, and on any other occasion when their crying became troublesome. Only four or five drops of the syrup was given each child last night Mrs. Ackernicht declared.

Coroner Miller after investigation, said: "The death of these children was caused by Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

LIQUOR LAWS NOT BROKEN

WINONA, Minn., April 2.—On complaint of Charles O. Goss ninety-six cases of alleged violation of the liquor laws in the selling of liquor to children who were "rushing the growler" were investigated by Mayor Muir, County Attorney Simpson and Chief of Police Kammerer, and in each case the saloonkeeper could show a written order from the parents or guardian of the children. One case remains to be investigated.

DELIBERATE WAS STEVENS MURDER

OLD FEUD LEADS TO COLD BLOODED SHOOTING

GOT MAN FIRED—KILLS HIM

McDonald Taunted by Fellow Until Latter Attacks, Then Shoots Him to Death

MASON CITY, Ia., April 2.—George Stevens is dead as a result of a bullet wound fired into his body by Frank H. McDonnell. He lived fifty hours after the shooting took place.

There had been a feud existing between the two men for the past two months. Stevens held a responsible position with the Portland Cement company, of this city. McDonnell was the time keeper at the plant.

Stevens did something that aggravated McDonnell and for this the latter secured his discharge from the company. Later Stevens went to work for J. H. Martin, proprietor of the hotel at the plant. Last Sunday afternoon the trouble between the two men was renewed. Stevens was a powerfully built man, while McDonnell was a one-legged man and not strong. Stevens submitted to his "jibes" so the report goes, until he was unable to control himself longer and he grappled with McDonnell and gave him a shaking up. Albert Martin, son of the proprietor of the hotel, interfered at this juncture, and sent McDonnell to his room, McDonnell hurling epithets at Stevens as he ascended the stairs. Stevens made for him again, but McDonnell made for his room more rapidly. Some time intervened when Stevens went upstairs and was in

HEINZ Baked Beans

Try them just once—ever afterward you'll instinctively say "Heinz" when you want genuine baked beans.

First parboiled—as all good cooks do—to soften the skin and make them tender.

Then placed in dry-heated ovens and baked to a tempting golden brown—baked till every bean is so mellow and mealy, so finely flavored with that real New England zest and savor, that a single taste proves that the only way to cook beans is to bake them.

Finally blended with rich, finely-flavored tomato sauce, made in the HEINZ way from tomatoes which are grown specially for HEINZ. Surely, they even surpass your ideal of what beans ought to be.

Nor do any of these qualities diminish to the slightest degree, for the HEINZ Improved Tin (sterilized and solderless) insures permanent flavor and purity.

The great demand for HEINZ Beans by particular palates proves their superiority.

Three Kinds—With Tomato Sauce; Plain Pork and Beans (Boston Style); Vegetarian—Without Pork.

All Grocers—money back if not pleased.

FINE FUSS SPLITS MILWAUKEE G. O. P.

ROSE HELPED BY PRINGLE IS ANTI-LA FOLLETTEISM

MR. PRINGLE INSPIRES ANGER

Declares He Is Opposed to References to La Follette in Speeches
—Bolt May Come

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—There is a fine fuss in Milwaukee, and that a republican split which will elect Dave Rose exists seems probable. It has grown out of the refusal of Pringle, republican mayoralty candidate, to endorse La Follette and other fellow candidates of the republican party. Pringle has been between two fires, and at first seemed pleased with speeches endorsing La Follette, although he refrained from making them himself. It would seem that the other wing—his wing—of the party had kicked on this, for last night Mr. Pringle issued a public statement in which he said:

"As there seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to my position on certain questions, I wish to state, once for all, and as emphatically as words will express it, that I consider this campaign, so far as I am concerned, strictly and solely a municipal or city affair, and that it has absolutely nothing to do with judicial, state, or national affairs, and further if any speaker connected with my campaign inject any of these questions into their speeches at any meeting held in the interest of the republican ticket, they do it not only without my consent, but entirely on their own responsibility."

Halfbreeds Are Hot.
But the La Follette men insist on their right to support the whole ticket.

"It has come to a pretty pass, if republicans are not to be permitted to give credit to La Follette for the great fight he has made in this state for the people's rights, when the chief issue of this very campaign is due to his success in that fight," said a La Follette speaker yesterday.

"I told the Pringle committee when I started out that I should refer to Mr. La Follette as a presidential candidate freely in my speeches and I have done so and will continue to do so. I presume others will do the same."

"Mollycoddle" Campaign.
"It is no time to be conducting a mollycoddle campaign, either, in my estimation. Talk about 'getting together for Milwaukee' is all right, but with an issue like David S. Rose before them the people expect more than platitudes and should receive more. The speech of Mr. Cochems in which he called attention to the disgrace of the franchise of 1900, with all that it means, was more of an argument for Thomas J. Pringle's election than a mile of talk about getting together."

It is said that the Free Press and the evening German paper Monday came very near flying the Pringle coop and The Germania, it is asserted, would have done so had not assurances been given that no attempt would be made to muzzle La Follette speakers in any way. The Free Press ignores the whole matter today, while The Sentinel briefly nicks it on one part, and prints Mr. Pringle's ultimatum on another. A great bolt to Seidel (social democrat) is expected.

WITH HEAD CRUSHED; FOUND IN ASH PILE

FOND DU LAC, Wis., April 2.—With the right side of its head

A Bold Step.

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broadcast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines. Thus he has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits, and made them Remedies of Known Composition.

By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that the formulae of such medicines, that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

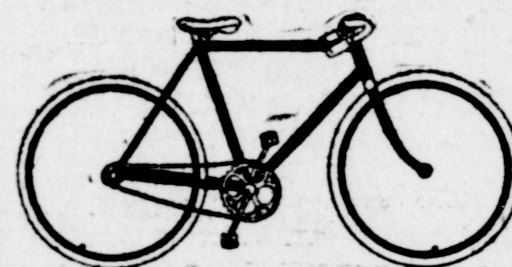

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small extract from the writings of leading physicians, endorsing the value of the medicine, is also printed on the wrapper. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From the time the book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral acids or other injurious agents, and that they are made from native medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription "is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the woman's functions, correcting displacements, procuring, antivenereal and retentive, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines."
